

Glenn Clark Cared

By Sandy Stevens

Glenn Clark cared. He cared about his wife, Annette, who was 18 weeks pregnant with their first child. He cared about his wrestling team -- so much so that he helped build their wrestling room and painted the mascot and slogans on the walls. And, he cared about the future of the sport.

Clark also loved challenges. He chose to go from varsity coach of one of the most prestigious wrestling programs in Pennsylvania to start a new program at another high school. A scholastic state representative, he served as a volunteer director of the National Wrestling Coaches Association, promoting high school competition in five Eastern states. He worked tirelessly to eliminate the proportionality clause of Title IX.

All that came to a wrenching halt the
