BOISE, Idaho – In a dual that featured all eight of the Sun Devils’ wins by bonus points, #13 Arizona State (10-4, 4-1 Pac-12) tallied their highest point total of the season as a team in a 39-6 victory at Boise State (2-9, 1-4 Pac-12) to cap the regular season.

The Devils finish 4-1 in Pac-12 competition for the first time since 2013-14 and post a 10-win season for the second consecutive year (first back-to-back 10-win seasons since 2004-05 and 2005-06).

“I think we’re wrestling our best coming down to the end of the season,” head coach Zeke Jones complimented his team following the match. “Lots of bonus points, taking care of small things on the mat, good focus and intensity, and aggressive wrestling – all the things you’re supposed to do when competing at a high-level at the right time.”
