Nick Henneman to Transfer to Lourdes to Wrestle

Nick Henneman will transfer to Lourdes University this fall to wrestle for the Gray Wolves, head coach Dock Kelly III has announced.

Henneman arrives at Lourdes from Kent State University, where he sat out the 2017-2018 season as a redshirt. Competing unattached, he compiled a 21-4 record for the Golden Flashes, recording 10 falls, in his first taste of collegiate wrestling.

“Nick is an incredibly skilled wrestler that is relentless with his offensive attacks,” Kelly said. “He is battle tested, and will have a huge impact on the Lourdes University wrestling program. He has the skill set, work ethic, and the wrestling IQ to contend for a national championship immediately.”

A native of Oregon, Ohio, Henneman was a four-year letterwinner at Clay High School. He was a three-time state placer in Division I for the Eagles, and was twice named the Three Rivers Athletic Conference Wrestler of the Year. A two-time district runner-up, Henneman finished his prep career with a 163-34 record. He also excelled in the classroom, earning TRAC All-Academic honors four times.

Henneman should have four seasons of eligibility remaining upon arriving at Lourdes.
