

The first week of competition is here. We are excited to get rolling.

Hemida has one more season to build his past

William Faulkner once wrote, "Memory believes before knowing remembers. Believes longer than recollects, longer than knowing even wonders."

The line from Light in August seeks to encapsulate how people struggle with the legacy and burden of the past. While the novel deals with much heavier issues, wrestlers often find themselves in a similar struggle. Seasons or individual matches are collections of split-second decisions, movements and challenges. For some, a simple six-minute college match can be transmogrified into a lifetime of nostalgia or regret.

At the 2017 NCAA Division I Wrestling Championships, Maryland heavyweight Youssif Hemida found himself one match away from becoming an All-American for the first time. In the aptly named blood round, he faced off against Arizona

State's Tanner Hall. While the match was close, as they often are in the heavyweight division, Hemida ended up on the losing end via a 2-1 score.

Hemida to compete in NWCA All Star Classic

Senior heavyweight and returning All-American Youssif Hemida will participate in the annual NWCA All-Star Classic. The event showcases some of college wrestling's top ranked competitors.

Hemida will battle Oklahoma State's Derek White. White is coming off a strong junior campaign for the Cowboys, winning 25 matches and falling just shy of All-American. This will be the first time Hemida and White match up in an official competition.
