Layton Schmick Named Third Team All-PSAC

3/28/2024 | Men's Wrestling

EAST STROUDSBURG - On Thursday, the Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference announced that East Stroudsburg University men's wrestling freshman Layton Schmick was named Third Team All-Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference (PSAC) at 285 pounds.

Schmick, who was tabbed as the NWCA Super Region I Rookie of the Year yesterday, becomes the third Warrior since 2020 to garner All-PSAC accolades as Brady Carter (125) and Cameron Enriquez (133) were honored a season ago. Additionally, he became the first ESU wrestler to earn All-PSAC honors at 285 pounds since all-conference teams were based on a coaches' vote starting in 2019-20.

Schmick punched his ticket to the Division II National Championships with a third place at 285 pounds at the Super Region I Championships and became the program's first NCAA qualifier in the heavy weight division, dating back to 2010, but was unfortunately unable to compete due to injury.

Ranked as high as No. 12 by the National Wrestling Coaches Association in his weight class, the Carlisle native concluded his first season as at ESU 30-4 overall and 9-1 in duals with 14 falls, six major decisions and one technical fall. Schmick was a two-time PSAC Wrestler of the Week (December 5, February 13) and captured four titles this season including first place finishes at the Will Abele Invitational, Nassau Open, Bob Quade Cyclone Open and ESU Open.

Schmick, who recorded a pair of 11-match win streaks during the year, notched the first 30-win season by an ESU wrestler since 2004-05 when Mark Smith finished 31-9 overall.
